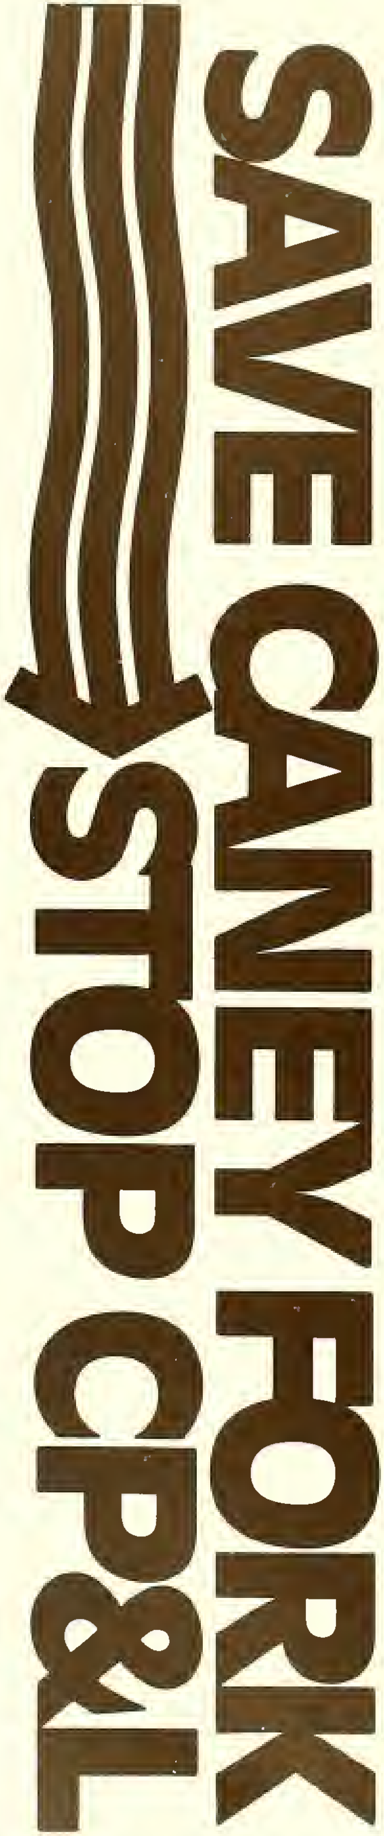
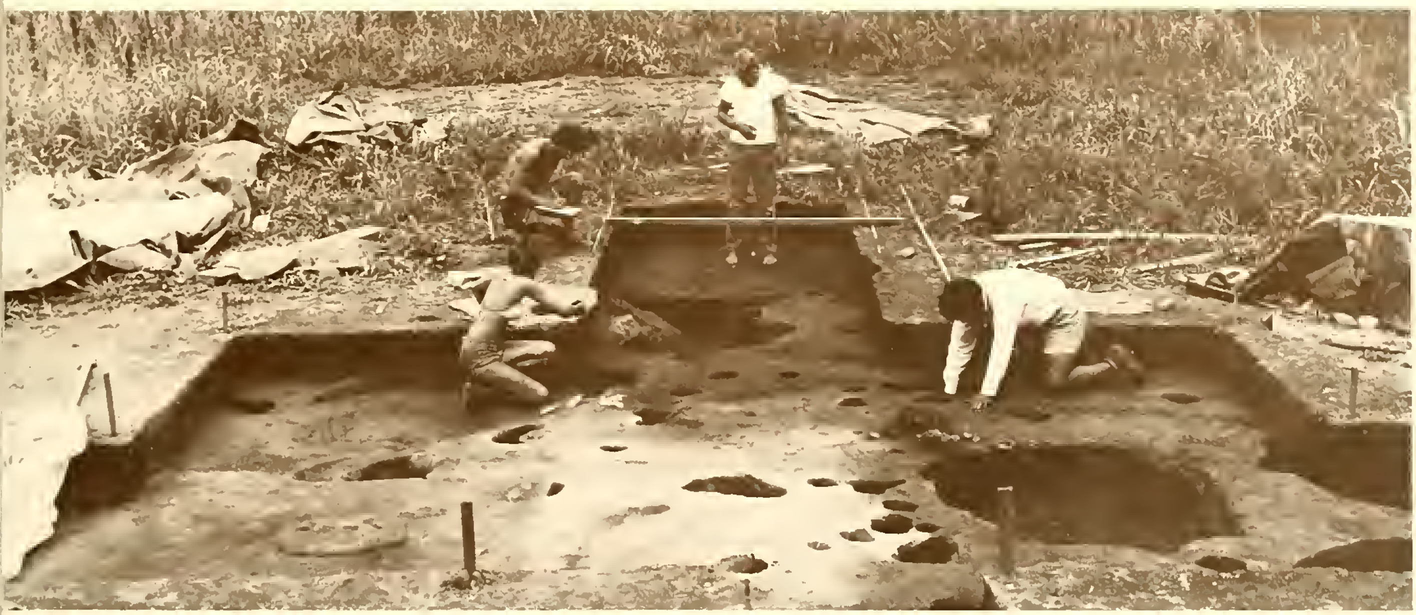
SUMMER

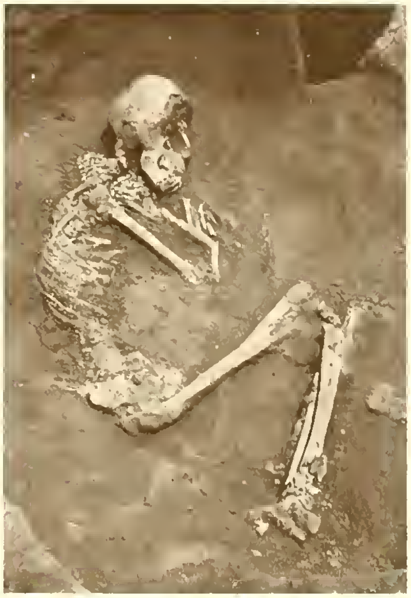


Dr. Dan Pittillo shows Mrs. Vena Shular, a resident of Caney Fork, how C.P. & L's plans to build reservoirs will affect her. The standing proposal would move about 15 to 20 other families off their land.

The project would create two large reservoirs, connecting them by a pipeline to provide extra power during the peak consumption hours in South Carolina, Eastern North Carolina, and particularly around the Asheville area.

In light of this, the WCU biology department is sponsoring a campaign to raise money by selling bumperstickers to help the residents of Caney Fork fight CP & L.





The WCU Archaeological Field School spent two months excavating a small Indian village near Hayesville, N.C. A group of ten students, under the direction of Dr. John T. Dorwin, uncovered approximately 30,000 pieces of pottery, animal bones, and the skeleton of a small Indian girl.

The fourth annual Southeastern Emergency Care Seminar, sponsored by the N.C. Department of Insurance, the State Board of Health, and WCU, demonstrated the latest techniques for rescuing accident victims to the rescue squads and ambulance attendants.

Sharon Krauss of Hendersonville was one of the flag women for M.B. Haynes Electric Corporation, as they started work on the streets of Cullowhee.

The U.C. bash gave students and faculty the opportunity to get together and to celebrate the fourth of July without the threat of classes.

Wilbert Banks of Winston-Salem took courses this summer in bowling, orientation, English, and health with little trouble. Banks, like 26 other blind students on campus participated in Project Early Bird which helps blind students adapt to college life early.

Sometimes life seems to stare at us in the face, and we find no courage to stare back. Sometimes we rush by opportunities and later regret it. Often, we just sit back and say, "The hell with it all," or we just slip into our dream world and ignore existence. Life can be one hassle after another, confrontation after confrontation. Yet, we write in our diaries and focus our cameras just so we can laugh at the past. It is then reflections become easy and almost pleasant.

8 Town Election

Harold Rogers, student body president, has been trying to make it easier for WCU students to vote in both state and national elections. If a student is independent of his parents he may not be allowed to vote in Jackson County even though he lives here full time. In a few cases, President Rogers said that some students can not be registered in either their home town or in Sylva.

And here it is — the sucker you've been hearing so much about. The 142-pound lollipop, owned by Jimmy Rutledge, David Justice and Gerald Spaugh, is supposedly the worlds' largest. It was purchased in Gatlinburg, Tennessee for a small sum of forty dollars.

One rather creative student decided that she was tired of all the bugs that infested Buchanan Hall. After a lot of gripes she still had bugs in her room. The only alternative seemed to be make a sign which seemed appropriate.

If it weren't for the University Center Board, most W.C.U. students would be going insane with the lack of things to do. The Board also transformed the U.C. lawn to a car lot, displaying current cars.

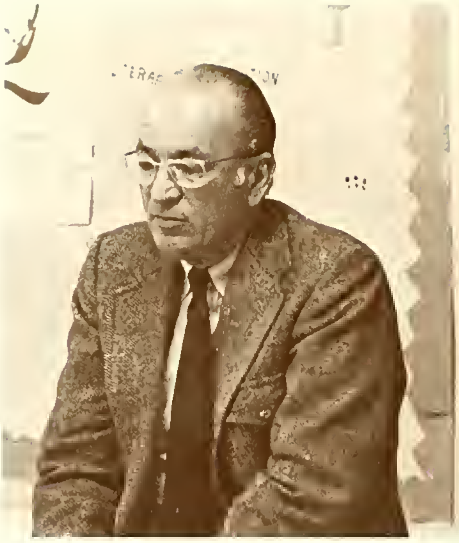
Alpha Phi Omega is the National Service Fraternity for college and university men, founded in 1925 and now is active on more than 450 campuses in the United States, APO serves four areas: the campus, the community, the chapter, and the country in a program of leadership, fellowship, and service.

BLOOD, so vital to our existence, without it we would die. Alpha Phi Omega helps the American Red Cross every quarter with their blood bank donations, for they know that every day there are people that will die without it.

JIM HENLEY IS CROWNED as Alpha Phi Omega's 1973 Miss Thanksgiving Womenless Pageant winner. The admission to the pageant is free, but people were asked to contribute the money, food, and clothes that they could afford to give. The contributed items went to the needy families of Jackson County.

Japan: the Red Sun



Ciruna held its symposium "Japan: Yesterday, Today, and Tomorrow" to introduce the aspects of oriental customs and ideas to WCU students. Japanese students from Warren Wilson College provided demonstrations on judo, tea ceremonies, traditional dances, calligraphy, and the Japanese art of flower arranging.

It only takes a spark to get a fire going, and soon all those around can warm up in its glowing. That's how it is with God's love once you've experienced it. You spread his love to everyone, you want to PASS IT ON.

What a wonderous time is Spring, when all the trees are budding. The birds begin to sing; the flowers start their blooming. That's how it is with God's love once you've experienced it.

It's fresh like Spring, you want to sing, you want to PASS IT ON.

I wish for you, my friend, this happiness that I have found. You can depend on Him; it matters not where you are bound. I'll shout it from the mountaintops; I want the world to know the Lord of Love has come to me;
I want to PASS IT ON.

The question is: Which came first, Cullowhee or the truck loads of trash that covers it? The answer to the litter problem is not talk but action. Students of Ray Menze's 2-D design class demonstrated their enthusiasm to help make Cullowhee a prettier place to live.

Commenting on the litter problem Menze said "It had to start someplace. It's everybody's responsibility; not yours or mine, but everybody's."

A New Way to Pre-Register

Fall quarter proved to be interesting with a new method of pre-registration. As a whole, the student body liked the new way, because they could originally make out their own schedule and get the instructors they wanted.

The head of the English department, Dr. Wade, did not release the names of his instructors, saying that all of his teachers were equal. Harold Rogers, student body president, organized a boycott and a petition against Dr. Wade.

When W.C.U. history professor Tom O'Toole and his family were left homeless after a fire consumed their house, Toad Hall, many concerned people were eager to help. The Pi Tappa Keg fraternity held a tubing event that engrossed $180. On March 9th, twelve tubers braved the cold Tuckasegee waters. The course ran from the bridge to the area around the Sylva dam. It took three hours for only five surviving tubers to reach the dam.

GE FUEL SHORTA

Nineteen seventy-three's most popular social gathering has been car pools, and it looks as if it will be around for some time. Thanks to the energy crisis, students have met others who have the same objective: getting to where they're going. With skyrocketing prices, empty gas tanks, and a fifty-five mile per hour speed limit, the fuel shortage has affected us all. Our days have seemed longer with Daylight Saving's Time, and our streets are darker. If the energy crisis should prove to be a hoax, few will be laughing. Our parents had the Depression; we have no energy.

If Cullowhee is infamous for anything, it has its weather to give it a bad name. This year had enough of its proverbial rain, but few snowflakes touched Western's campus. There is only one word to describe this winter: spastic. Students didn't know what to wear (another explanation for streaking). The seasons seemed to change from hour to hour. Most of us baked in March, for sunbathing was not uncommon. This unusual winter was a combination of chill bumps, sun burns, and confusion. The infirmary administered huge doses of dimetapp and cough syrup. Next year's forecast? It would be safe to predict rain, rain, rain.

Hike for Hope

Many WCU students can affirm that Cherokee is a "good piece down the road." Especially when they left from the UC lawn and walked twenty-five miles to get there. No, the campus doesn't have an ambundant supply of exercise fanatics, but concerned students.

On April 28th, fifty-five hikers walked to earn money for the hospital ship, Hope. Sponsored by the Phi Mu Sorority and WCAT radio, the hike had few quitters and many more moaners.

Special Olympics

The Special Olympics was once referred to as "an athletic event of which it can be said that everyone is a winner." This year on May 4th, the third annual Special Olympics proved to be as rewarding as it was demanding.

The Youth Association for Retarted Children initiated the program under the direction of its President, Gene Copley, its faculty advisor, Dr. Jane Schulz, and the co-director of the Olympics, Lynn Hamlin. With the support of various fraternities, campus organizations, and local businesses, the Olympics was an astounding success.

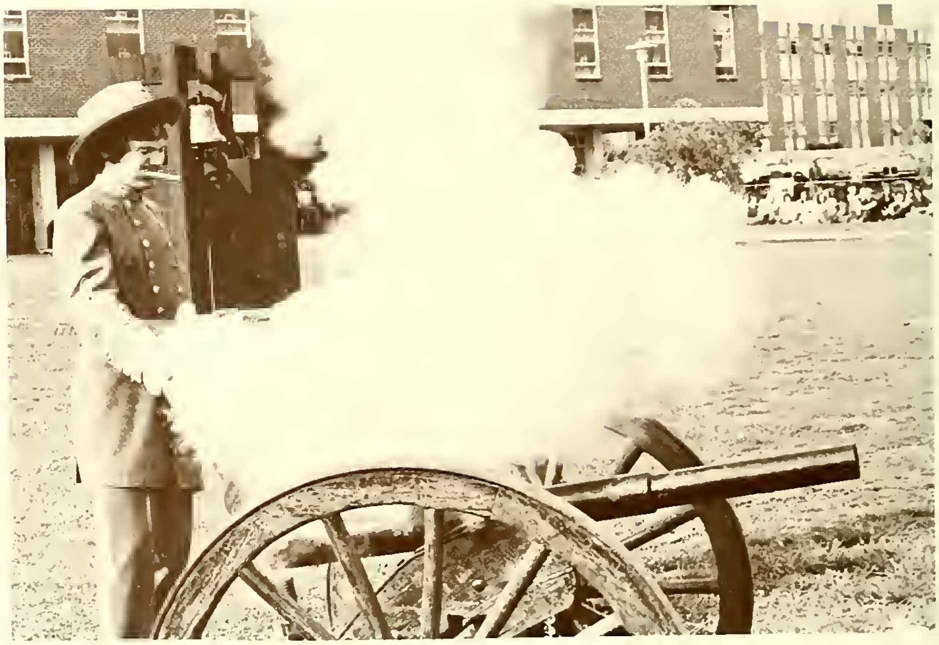
Old South Weekend



On May 9th the U.C. lawn seemed almost transformed into an Old South plantation with ladies in hooped skirts and men in confederate uniforms wandering around the grounds. The Kappa Alpha fraternity held an "Old South Day" in honor of the ideals of Robert E. Lee, and pageantry of the South was revived for one weekend with a ball.

Student Government Elections

Although the candidates' platforms differed in many trivial ways, the election was marked with several run-offs. Pamphlets covered the campus and it was difficult to escape from any of the candidates. Campaigning was constant in the cafeterias, dorms, and especially in the U.C.. Gimmicks ranged from do nuts to monkey suits.

Black Week

Every Black Person on this campus is daily, constantly, hourly reminded that he lives in a segregated, racist society. There are pressures to get in and pressures to get out. It is a constant kind of feeling that he does not have the right to enjoy life as the vast majority of the population does. No white person experiences that in so forceful a way — it is impossible for white faculty, administration, and students to understand black feelings.

The Wide World of Football 1973

Our first year participating for a title in the NCAA was described like this: "We weren't exactly elated over the season, but then we weren't disappointed either . . ." This is how head football coach Bob Waters referred to the 6-3-1 record that the Fighting Catamounts posted for 1973. It was an off-and-on year for the Cats, owing mostly to the injuries and inexperience of the players.

There were several highlights of the season, those being the wins over Middle Tennessee and UT-Chattanooga. Also, center Mark Ferguson and linebacker Steve Yates for the second year in a row were both named to All-American teams.

The only major loss was Memorial Stadium, which will be replaced by a new structure next season.

Next year, with a new stadium and a new chance, we can post the best season ever. Maybe next year, we can . . .

Soccer 1973 — Successful

The WCU Soccer team recorded another banner season as they closed out with 7-4-1 results. There were several highlights of the season, such as the victory at the Emory Invitational Tournament, the victory over Erskin College, and the overall team spirit. There were many dedicated players, but to name some outstanding ones would have to include Patrick Cheung, scoring 61 goals in his four-year career, and Ed Young, doing a spectacular job as goalie. To quote Coach Schrader as he reflected upon the success of the season: "Hustle and determination, that's what brought us through."

Women's Volleyball

The Western Carolina University Womens' Volleyball team closed another successful season, carrying a 19-8 season record and the State Championship Crown. After battling at Pembroke State for the State title, the WCU Womens' team travelled on to ECU to play in the AIAW tournament.

Cross Country

Western Carolina's cross country team reached the halfway point this past fall in Coach Jones' uphill climb back to prominence. The harriers started slow, but finished with a successful season.

Round Ball 74

Western Carolina's basketball season seemed trapped in the energy crisis as it had a difficult start, suffered from a lack of horsepower, and sputtered on its way to a 11-14 record. Inexperience and a demanding schedule were the greatest hardships for coach Jim Hartbarger's team to surmount. Bright moments included Gibbs, Toomer, and Langford as high scorers and an outstanding double-overtime win over Elon College.

Wrestling 1974

The 1974 Wrestling season proved to be a "rebuilding" one after facing inexperience, a tough schedule, and the loss of major veteran team members of past seasons.

After posting four straight winning seasons, Western Carolina's Wrestling team felt the sting of defeat as they wound up the 1974 season with a 6-8 record. Outstanding teammate Dan Iverson closed his senior season with a 10-3-1 score, though. Although the inexperience of several wrestlers may have hurt this year, next year should prove to be optimistic with the return of most team members.

Gymnastics Troupe

The Gymnastics Troupe exhibited enthusiastic and successful work during the winter season. The Lady Cats sported their second undefeated season, followed by a first place win in the State Meet and second in the Regionals. Susan Bulloch proved her skill by placing first place and third "All-Around" in the state and regional meets, respectively.

Women's Basketball

The women's basketball team was dedicated to having a winning season this year, even though it was an uphill climb all the way. Outstanding players Brenda Johnson and Judy Stroud helped to make the success possible, giving the Lady Cats second place in the state tournament.

Smallball:

The Catamount baseball team bit off more than it could chew during the 1974 spring season. The Cats were plagued with bad weather, injuries, inexperience, and a schedule of some of the top ranked teams in the nation. But despite all this, the team posted an 11-14 record.

Individual performances from Lester Wright, Jimmy Stewart, Danny Carswell, Gary Rhyne, and Dale Fox were good, in spite of a losing record. Highlights were provided by wins over Clemson, Duke, and Georgia Tech.

"I'm not happy with the season, but a lot of our players gained some valuable experience that should help us considerably next spring."

Track and Field

Western Carolina's track and field team may have closed it's regular season with an unimpressive won-loss record, but the team claimed it's share of recognition in the end. The team lacked depth in several areas, but several performers made up for it. Jerry Gaines, Randy Helderman, and LeVon Wilson traveled to the NCAA Division II Track and Field Championship Meet to bring back a fifteenth place finish, the highest ever for W.C.U.

Shall we not learn from life its laws, dynamics, balances?
Learn to base our needs
not on death, destruction, waste, but not on renewal?
In wisdom and in gentleness
learn to walk again with Eden's angels?
Learn at last to shape a civilization in harmony with the earth?
